Shanghai Motorists Arrested In Chekiang For Death Of Woman

Mr. G. M. Babbitt and Mr. K. C. Chow of the China Highways magazine are being held in Tung-wan, Chekiang province, for the death of an old woman in a motor accident at Chow-wu, according to a telegram received by Mr. Carl Crow this morning.

The pair left here last Friday to explore the new roads which the province is building in the interest of progress and the development of tourist traffic.

Mr. Crow has been advised that officials of the Standard Oil Company at Yu-yao are proceeding to Tung-wan, 25 miles south of Shaoshing, to negotiate a settlement with the local authorities.

Sir

The accompanying book was on display at a roadside bookstall and I consider that the prints flagged A + B are indecent
